A hand-drawing kit in a computerized world?

It may seem that offering a kit for hand-drawing pools is going against the wave of the new and existing computer pool drawing programs. I would like to make a point on that subject, if I may. I love computers, in fact, I am snuggled up to my beloved PowerBook as I write this to you. If you are using a computer system now, great. You must still be able to draw if... your computer is lost to theft, a crashed hard drive, an accidental erasure, whatever. Also, good hand-drawing skills help you gather higher quality information from your client in situations where your laptop may not be available or usable (like in bright sunlight). Consider this the best back up system you can buy.
